Determination of Patent Term Adjustment under 35 U.S.C. 154 (b)
(application filed on or after May 29, 2000)

The patent term adjustment to date is 65 days. If the issue fee is paid on the date that is three months after the mailing date of this notice and the patent issues on the Tuesday before the date that is 28 weeks (six and a half months) after the mailing date of this notice, the term adjustment will be 65 days.

If a continued prosecution application (CPA) was filed in the above-identified application, the filing date that determines patent term adjustment is the filing date of the most recent CPA.

Applicant will be able to obtain more detailed information by accessing the Patent Application Information Retrieval (PAIR) system. (<http://pair.uspto.gov>)

Any questions regarding the patent term extension or adjustment determination should be directed to the Office of Patent Legal Administration at (703)305-1383.

Notice of Fee Increase on January 1, 2003

If a reply to a "Notice of Allowance and Fee(s) Due" is filed in the Office on or after January 1, 2003, then the amount due will be higher than that set forth in the "Notice of Allowance and Fee(s) Due" since there will be an increase in fees effective on January 1, 2003. See Revision of Patent and Trademark Fees for Fiscal Year 2003; Final Rule, 67 Fed. Reg. 70847, 70849 (November 27, 2002).

The current fee schedule is accessible from: <http://www.uspto.gov/main/howtofees.htm>.

If the issue fee paid is the amount shown on the "Notice of Allowance and Fee(s) Due," but not the correct amount in view of the fee increase, a "Notice to Pay Balance of Issue Fee" will be mailed to applicant. In order to avoid processing delays associated with mailing of a "Notice to Pay Balance of Issue Fee," if the response to the Notice of Allowance and Fee(s) due form is to be filed on or after January 1, 2003 (or mailed with a certificate of mailing on or after January 1, 2003), the issue fee paid should be the fee that is required at the time the fee is paid. If the issue fee was previously paid, and the response to the "Notice of Allowance and Fee(s) Due" includes a request to apply a previously-paid issue fee to the issue fee now due, then the difference between the issue fee amount at the time the response is filed and the previously paid issue fee should be paid. See Manual of Patent Examining Procedure, Section 1308.01 (Eighth Edition, August 2001).

Questions relating to issue and publication fee payments should be directed to the Customer Service Center of the Office of Patent Publication at (703) 305-8283.

DETAILED ACTION

Priority

1. Receipt is acknowledged of papers submitted under 35 U.S.C. 119(a)-(d), which papers have been placed of record in the file.

Allowable Subject Matter

2. Claims 1-12 are allowed over prior art of record.

Reason for Allowance

3. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance:

The prior art of record neither anticipates nor renders obvious the claimed subject matter of the instant application as a whole either taken alone or in combination, in particular, prior art of record does not teach "forming an undercoating film made of silicon nitride or silicon nitride oxide on a substrate; wet-cleaning said undercoating film using a cleaning liquid; irradiating far ultraviolet ray onto said undercoating film of which wet-cleaning has been completed; and forming an organic thin film with a thickness of about 100 nm or thinner on said undercoating film onto which far ultraviolet ray has been irradiated by turning said substrate and supplying a liquid organic material onto said substrate," as recited in claim 1, "forming an undercoating film made of silicon nitride or silicon nitride oxide on a substrate; wet-cleaning said undercoating film using a cleaning liquid; and forming an organic thin film with a thickness of about 100nm or thinner on said undercoating film of which wet-cleaning has been completed by turning said substrate and supplying a liquid organic material onto said substrate; wherein said organic material contains at least one solvent selected from the group consisting of propylene glycol monomethyl ether acetate, propylene glycol monomethyl ether, ethyl lactate, methyl methoxy propionate, ethyl ethoxy propionate, 2-heptanone, ethyl pyruvate, diethylene glycol monomethyl ether, methyl cellosolve acetate, propylene glycol monoethyl ether acetate, ethyl methoxy propionate, methyl lactate and methyl pyruvate,” as recited in claim 6, and “forming an undercoating film made of silicon nitride or silicon nitride oxide on a substrate; irradiating far ultraviolet ray onto said undercoating film; and forming an organic thin film with a thickness of about 100 nm or thinner on said undercoating film onto which far ultraviolet ray has been irradiated, by turning said substrate and supplying a liquid organic material onto said substrate; wherein said organic material contains at least one solvent selected from the group consisting of propylene glycol monomethyl ether acetate, propylene glycol monomethyl ether, ethyl lactate, methyl methoxy propionate, ethyl ethoxy propionate, 2-heptanone, ethyl pyruvate, diethylene glycol monomethyl ether, methyl cellosolve acetate, propylene glycol monoethyl ether acetate, ethyl methoxy propionate, methyl lactate and methyl pyruvate,” as recited claim 10 respectively.

Re claims 1, 6 and 10, Ota et al. (US/6,029,679) disclose cleaning method of a semiconductor wafer wherein substrate of the wafer covered with a film containing a group selected from a resist, silicon nitride or silicon oxide. However, Ota et al. fail to teach or suggest “irradiating far ultraviolet ray onto said undercoating film of which wet-cleaning has been completed; and forming an organic thin film with a thickness of about 100 nm or thinner on said undercoating film onto which far ultraviolet ray has been irradiated by turning said substrate and supplying a liquid organic material onto said substrate,” as recited in claim 1, “forming an organic thin film with a thickness of about 100nm or thinner on said undercoating film of which wet-cleaning has been completed by turning said substrate and supplying a liquid organic material onto said substrate; wherein said organic material contains at least one solvent selected from the group consisting of propylene glycol monomethyl ether acetate, propylene glycol monomethyl ether, ethyl lactate, methyl methoxy propionate, ethyl ethoxy propionate, 2-heptanone, ethyl pyruvate, diethylene glycol monomethyl ether, methyl cellosolve acetate, propylene glycol monoethyl ether acetate, ethyl methoxy propionate, methyl lactate and methyl pyruvate,” as recited in claim 6, or “irradiating far ultraviolet ray onto said undercoating film; and forming an organic thin film with a thickness of about 100 nm or thinner on said undercoating film onto which far ultraviolet ray has been irradiated, by turning said substrate and supplying a liquid organic material onto said substrate; wherein said organic material contains at least one solvent selected from the group consisting of propylene glycol monomethyl ether acetate, propylene glycol monomethyl ether, ethyl lactate, methyl methoxy propionate, ethyl ethoxy propionate, 2-heptanone, ethyl pyruvate, diethylene glycol monomethyl ether, methyl cellosolve acetate, propylene glycol monoethyl ether acetate, ethyl methoxy propionate, methyl lactate and methyl pyruvate,” as recited claim 10.

Okada et al. (US/6,040,034) also disclose forming of an organic film containing a solvent selected the group consisting cyclohexanone, xylene, butyl acetate, and amyl acetate on a substrate. However, Okada et al. fail to teach or suggest “forming an undercoating film made of silicon nitride or silicon nitride oxide on a substrate; wet-cleaning said undercoating film using a cleaning liquid; and forming an organic thin film with a thickness of about 100nm or thinner on said undercoating film of which wet-cleaning has been completed by turning said substrate and supplying a liquid organic material onto said substrate,” as recited in claim 6, and “forming an undercoating film made of silicon nitride or silicon nitride oxide on a substrate; wet-cleaning said undercoating film using a cleaning liquid; irradiating far ultraviolet ray onto said undercoating film of which wet-cleaning has been completed; and forming an organic thin film with a thickness of about 100 nm or thinner on said undercoating film onto which far ultraviolet ray has been irradiated by turning said substrate and supplying a liquid organic material onto said substrate,” as recited in claims 1 and 10 respectively.

Horie et al. (US/6,517,642) disclose method of forming ultra fine film containing an organic solvent on a substrate while rotating a substrate. However, Horie et al. fail to teach or suggest “forming an undercoating film made of silicon nitride or silicon nitride oxide on a substrate; wet-cleaning said undercoating film using a cleaning liquid; and forming an organic thin film with a thickness of about 100nm or thinner on said undercoating film of which wet-cleaning has been completed by turning said substrate and supplying a liquid organic material onto said substrate,” as recited in claim 6, and “forming an undercoating film made of silicon nitride or silicon nitride oxide on a substrate; wet-cleaning said undercoating film using a cleaning liquid; irradiating far ultraviolet ray onto said undercoating film of which wet-cleaning has been completed; and forming an organic thin film with a thickness of about 100 nm or thinner on said undercoating film onto which far ultraviolet ray has been irradiated by turning said substrate and supplying a liquid organic material onto said substrate,” as recited in claims 1 and 10 respectively.

Therefore, Ota et al., Okada et al., and Horie et al. neither teach nor suggest the claimed invention of the instant application either taken alone or in combination.

Claims 2-5, 7-9, 11, and 12 are also allowed as being dependent of the allowed independent base claim.

Conclusion

4. Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
